

FACTS

WHAT DOES FIRST NATIONAL ADVISERS, LLC (“FNA”) DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Rev. 6/2020

WHY?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

WHAT?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- income and net worth
- retirement assets and investment profile
- account balances and transaction history

HOW?

All financial companies need to share customers’ personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers’ personal information; the reasons FNA chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Please Note:

If you are a new customer, we can begin sharing your information 30 days from the date we sent this notice. When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

However, you can contact us at any time to limit our sharing.

Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

FNA, a wholly owned subsidiary of First National Bank of Omaha

What we do

How does FNA protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does FNA collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- open an account or give us your income information
- make transactions in your account

We also collect your personal information from others, such as affiliates.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes - information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
